

making memories

Building a legacy takes intentionality. Here are a few ideas for you to try! From the list below.

MAKE IT FUN

The best memories are fun memories! You don't have to do EXTRAVAGANT things to make something memorable. Turning the ordinary into something special takes just a little bit of effort and intentionality. Change up your weekly routines a bit and try some of these fun memory makers:

- Family Camp Out in the Living Room
- Picnic In the Backyard
- Play a game on a school night
- Work on a puzzle for the month
- Draw Toby the Goby and Friends
- Color and Paint Toby the Goby and Friends

MAKE IT MATTER

We believe there is something special that happens around the dinner table. What dinner looks like is just as unique as your family. Dinner may be fully prepared at home, or it may be out of a drive-thru bag or a frozen pizza! What makes a difference in the lives of your kids is conversation around the table. Here are a few questions to ask!

- What was your high for today?
- What was your low for today?
- What is something you are looking forward to?
- How can I pray for you tonight?
- What is something that was difficult today?
- How did you help someone else today?

MAKE IT MEANINGFUL

Gobies help one another along the way. One of the best ways you can create lasting memories with your kids is to do something for someone else. You can model kindness and gratitude by doing something meaningful for someone else.

- Take spring flowers to a neighbor
- Bake cookies for community helpers
- Send notes and cards to soldiers overseas
- Share kindness cards in your school

MAKE IT YOUR OWN
